河北省2026年普通高校专科升本科教育选拔考试

英语模拟试卷（一）

(考试时间:60分钟 满分:100分)

I. Phonetics (5 points)

Directions: In each of the following groups of words, there are 4 underlined letters or letter combinations marked A, B, C and D. Compare the underlined parts and identify the ONE that is different from the others in pronunciation. Then mark the corresponding letter on the Answer Sheet with a single line through the centre.

1. A. chemistry B. character C. school D. chair
2. A. warm B. hard C. star D. party
3. A. feather B. bread C. healthy D. break
4. A. world B. work C. fork D. word
5. A. played B. hoped C. started D. visited

II. Situational Dialogue (10 points)

Directions: In this section there is a long dialogue with 5 missing sentences. At the end of the dialogue, there is a list of given choices. You are required to select the ONE that best fits into the dialogue. Then mark the corresponding letter on the Answer Sheet with a single line through the centre. Note that there are two additional choices and you can not use any of the choices in the list more than once.

Interviewer: Good morning, sit down please.

Student: Good morning.

Interviewer: I have looked through your resume. You have done very well in college. 6

Student: Thank you. I once worked as a volunteer in the city library and I also worked as a tutor for a high school student last summer.

Interviewer: Good. 7

Student: I think I am good at communicating with others. I am patient and responsible. Also, my major is English, so I can speak English fluently.

Interviewer: That’s great. 8

Student: I hope to improve my spoken English and social skills. Of course, I also want to earn some money to reduce the burden on my parents.

Interviewer: 9

Student: I have classes on Monday and Wednesday mornings. I am free at other times.

Interviewer: OK. We are looking for a part-time assistant. The salary is 2000 yuan a month. 10

Student: That sounds reasonable. When can I start?

Interviewer: Next Monday. Welcome to join us.

A. What are your strengths?

B. Do you have any work experience?

C. How much do you expect to be paid?

D. Why do you want to apply for this job?

E. What do you think of the salary?

F. When will you be available?

G. Can you introduce yourself?

III. Reading Comprehension (50 points)

Section A (30 points)

Directions: There are 2 passages in this part. Each passage is followed by some questions or unfinished statements. For each of them there are 4 choices marked A, B, C and D. You are required to choose the ONE that best fits into the statement. Mark the corresponding letter on the Answer Sheet with a single line through the center.

Passage 1

Questions 11-15 are based on the following passage.

Sleep is very important to humans. The average person spends about one-third of his or her life sleeping. But why is sleep so important? Scientists have found that sleep helps our bodies and brains recover from the day's activities.

When we sleep, our bodies repair themselves. Muscle tissue is rebuilt, and the body releases hormones (激素) that help us grow. This is why babies and children need more sleep than adults. Sleep also helps strengthen our immune system, which protects us from getting sick. If you don't get enough sleep, you might find that you catch colds more easily.

Sleep is also crucial for our brains. While we sleep, our brains are busy processing information from the day. This helps us create long-term memories. That is why students who get a good night's sleep before an exam often do better than those who stay up all night studying. Sleep also helps us focus and think clearly. Without enough sleep, it is hard to pay attention in class or at work.

Most adults need between 7 and 9 hours of sleep each night. However, many people today do not get enough sleep. Stress, busy schedules, and the use of electronic devices like smartphones and computers can all make it difficult to fall asleep. To get better sleep, experts suggest going to bed at the same time every night and avoiding screens before bedtime.

11. According to the passage, the average person spends _____ of his or her life sleeping.
    A. half
    B. one-third
    C. one-fourth
    D. two-thirds
12. Which of the following is NOT mentioned as a benefit of sleep for the body?
    A. Rebuilding muscle tissue.
    B. Releasing hormones for growth.
    C. Strengthening the immune system.
    D. Improving eyesight.
13. Why do students who sleep well often do better in exams?
    A. Because sleep helps them create long-term memories.
    B. Because they have more time to dream about the answers.
    C. Because they study in their sleep.
    D. Because they are smarter than others.
14. What is the suggested amount of sleep for most adults?
    A. Less than 6 hours.
    B. Between 7 and 9 hours.
    C. More than 10 hours.
    D. exactly 8 hours.
15. What does the author suggest to get better sleep?
    A. Eating a heavy meal before bed.
    B. Playing games on smartphones.
    C. Keeping a regular sleep schedule.
    D. Exercising right before sleeping.

Passage 2

Questions 16-20 are based on the following passage.

In recent years, "Smart Homes" have become increasingly popular. A smart home is a house that uses internet-connected devices to enable the remote monitoring and management of appliances and systems, such as lighting and heating.

Smart home technology, often referred to as home automation, provides homeowners with security, comfort, convenience, and energy efficiency by allowing them to control smart devices, often by a smart home app on their smartphone or other networked devices.

One of the most common examples is the smart speaker, like Amazon Echo or Google Home. These devices can play music, set timers, and answer questions just by using your voice. More advanced systems can control the temperature of your house. For instance, a smart thermostat (恒温器) can learn your schedule and automatically adjust the temperature to save energy when you are not at home.

Security is another big benefit. Smart cameras and doorbells allow you to see who is at your front door even when you are at work. You can receive alerts on your phone if a motion sensor detects movement in your yard.

However, there are also concerns about smart homes. The biggest worry is privacy. Since these devices are connected to the Internet, there is a risk that hackers could break into the system and steal personal information. Also, smart home devices can be expensive to buy and install. Despite these challenges, the market for smart home technology is expected to continue growing as people look for ways to make their lives easier and more efficient.

16. What is the main function of a smart home?
    A. To build houses faster.
    B. To allow remote management of appliances.
    C. To make houses look more modern.
    D. To reduce the cost of buying a house.
17. According to the passage, smart home technology provides homeowners with the following benefits EXCEPT _____.
    A. security
    B. convenience
    C. energy efficiency
    D. free internet access
18. How does a smart thermostat help save energy?
    A. By turning off the electricity completely.
    B. By making the house colder in winter.
    C. By automatically adjusting the temperature based on the user's schedule.
    D. By using solar power only.
19. What is the biggest concern mentioned about smart homes?
    A. They are too difficult to use.
    B. They use too much electricity.
    C. The devices are too large.
    D. Privacy and security risks.

20. What is the author's attitude towards the future of smart home technology?
    A. Negative.
    B. Objective and positive.
    C. Critical.
    D. Doubtful.

Section B (20 points)

Directions: In this section there is a passage with 10 blanks. You are required to select one word for each blank from a list of choices given in a word bank following the passage. Read the passage through carefully before making your choice. Each choice in the blank is identified by a letter. Please mark the corresponding letter for each item on the Answer Sheet with a single line through the center. You may not use any of the words in the bank more than once.

Time management is the process of organizing and planning how to divide your time between specific activities. Good time management enables you to work smarter, not harder, so that you get 21 done in less time, even when time is tight and pressures are high. Failing to manage your time 22 damages your effectiveness and causes stress.

It may seem counter-intuitive (反直觉的) to dedicate precious time to learning about time management, instead of using it to get on with your work, but the benefits are 23. It improves your 24 to function effectively.

One useful tip is to create a daily plan. Plan your day before it unfolds. Do it in the morning or even better, the night before you sleep. The plan gives you a good overview of how the day will 25 out. That way, you don't get caught off guard. Your job for the day is to stick to the plan as best as possible.

Another method is to use a calendar. Having a calendar is the most fundamental step to managing your daily 26. It allows you to plan for meetings and deadlines.

Also, learn to say "No". For many people, saying "No" is surprisingly difficult. However, if you agree to every 27, you will likely feel overwhelmed. Focus on the tasks that are truly important.

Finally, eliminate distractions. Social media, web browsing, and co-workers can distract you from your 28. You need to set aside a specific time to check messages.

By taking control of your time, you're able to stay focused on the task at hand. This leads to higher 29 and efficiency. You will feel less stressed and more 30 in your daily life.

A. effectively	B. pan	C. ability	D. activities	E. more
F. request	G. enormous	H. confident	I. priorities	J. efficiency
K. waste	L. less	M. poorly	N. develop	O. successful

IV. Cloze (20 points)

Directions: There are 10 blanks in the following passage. For each blank there are 4 choices marked A, B, C and D. You are required to choose the ONE that best fits into the passage. Then mark the corresponding letter on the Answer Sheet with a single line through the centre.

Reading is a habit that can change your life. It is not just about decoding words on a page; it is about understanding new ideas and exploring different worlds. 31 you read a good book, you are having a conversation with the author.

First of all, reading improves your vocabulary. When you read, you encounter words that you might not use in everyday 32. By seeing these words in context, you learn their meanings and how to use them. This can help you express yourself 33 clearly and effectively.

Secondly, reading 34 your knowledge. Whether you read fiction or non-fiction, you are always learning something new. Books can teach you about history, science, culture, and human nature. This knowledge can make you a more interesting person to talk to and help you make better decisions in life.

Moreover, reading helps to reduce stress. In today's fast-paced world, we are often 35 with information and responsibilities. Sitting down with a book allows you to slow down and focus 36 one thing. It gives your brain a break from the constant noise of daily life.

To develop a reading habit, you don't need to read for hours every day. Start 37 15 or 20 minutes. Carry a book with you wherever you go, 38 you can read while waiting for a bus or a friend. Choose books that you are genuinely interested 39. If you don't like a book, put it down and find another one.

In conclusion, reading is a simple yet powerful way to improve your mind and your life. It is a key 40 success and happiness.

31. A. When B. Although C. Unless D. Until
32. A. speech B. conversation C. language D. grammar
33. A. very B. more C. much D. too
34. A. expands B. extends C. expends D. expects
35. A. bored B. satisfied C. overwhelmed D. crowded
36. A. in B. at C. to D. on

37. A. by B. with C. for D. from
38. A. so that B. in case C. as if D. even though
39. A. at B. on C. in D. with
40. A. of B. for C. to D. with

V. Writing (15 points)

Directions: In this part you are required to write a composition entitled The Importance of Self-discipline in no less than 100 words according to the following Chinese outline. Please remember to write it on the Answer Sheet.

1. 自律在学习和生活中的重要性；
2. 缺乏自律可能带来的后果；
3. 你打算如何提高自己的自律能力。