河北省2026年普通高校专科升本科教育选拔考试

英语模拟试卷（三）

(考试时间:60分钟 满分:100分)

I. Phonetics (5 points)

Directions: In each of the following groups of words, there are 4 underlined letters or letter combinations marked A, B, C and D. Compare the underlined parts and identify the ONE that is different from the others in pronunciation. Then mark the corresponding letter on the Answer Sheet with a single line through the centre.

1. A. country B. double C. south D. touch
2. A. theatre B. thirsty C. thousand D. there
3. A. village B. luggage C. message D. page
4. A. question B. suggestion C. mention D. combustion
5. A. knife B. knee C. knock D. kilo

II. Situational Dialogue (10 points)

Directions: In this section there is a long dialogue with 5 missing sentences. At the end of the dialogue, there is a list of given choices. You are required to select the ONE that best fits into the dialogue. Then mark the corresponding letter on the Answer Sheet with a single line through the centre. Note that there are two additional choices and you can not use any of the choices in the list more than once.

Shop Assistant: Good morning, sir. Can I help you?

Customer: Yes, please. I bought this shirt here yesterday, but when I tried it on at home, I found it didn't fit very well. 6

Shop Assistant: I see. Is it too small or too big?

Customer: It’s a bit tight around the shoulders.

Shop Assistant: Did you bring the receipt with you?

Customer: Yes, here it is.

Shop Assistant: Thank you. 7

Customer: I’d like to change it for a larger size, please.

Shop Assistant: Okay. Let me check if we have this style in a larger size. (A moment later) Yes, we have an Extra Large in blue. 8

Customer: That would be great. Thank you. (Tries it on) This one fits perfectly.

Shop Assistant: Good. 9

Customer: No, thank you. That's all.

Shop Assistant: Okay. Just take the new one to the cashier. 10

Customer: Thank you very much. Goodbye.

A. Would you like a refund or an exchange?

B. Do you want to try it on?

C. I'd like to return it.

D. Is there anything else I can help you with?

E. Sorry, we sold out.

F. Have a nice day.

G. What size do you need?

III. Reading Comprehension (50 points)

Section A (30 points)

Directions: There are 2 passages in this part. Each passage is followed by some questions or unfinished statements. For each of them there are 4 choices marked A, B, C and D. You are required to choose the ONE that best fits into the statement. Mark the corresponding letter on the Answer Sheet with a single line through the center.

Passage 1

Questions 11-15 are based on the following passage.

In many countries, tipping is a common practice, but the rules vary greatly from place to place. In the United States, for example, tipping is expected in restaurants, hotels, and taxis. It is the main source of income for many service workers. A tip of 15% to 20% of the bill is considered standard in American restaurants. If you leave less or nothing at all, it usually means you were very unhappy with the service.

However, in Japan, tipping is not part of the culture. In fact, leaving a tip can sometimes be considered rude or confusing. Service is expected to be excellent regardless of a tip, and the cost of service is already included in the price. If you leave money on the table in a Japanese restaurant, the waiter might run after you to return your "forgotten" change.

In Europe, the situation is somewhere in between. In many European countries, a service charge is often added to the bill, so a large tip is not necessary. However, it is polite to round up the bill or leave a small amount of loose change as a gesture of appreciation. For example, if your coffee costs 2.80 euros, you might leave 3 euros.

Travelers should always research the tipping customs of their destination before they go. Being aware of these cultural differences can help avoid awkward situations and show respect for the local people. It is not just about money; it is about understanding the value systems of different societies.

11. Why is tipping important for service workers in the United States?
    A. It is a bonus for good work.
    B. It covers the cost of the food.
    C. It is their main source of income.
    D. It is required by law.
12. If you leave a tip in a restaurant in Japan, the waiter will probably _____.
    A. be very happy and thank you
    B. feel insulted or confused
    C. ask for more money
    D. invite you to come again
13. In Europe, a large tip is usually not necessary because _____.
    A. the service is usually bad
    B. a service charge is often included in the bill
    C. people in Europe are very rich
    D. food is very expensive
14. The phrase "round up" in the third paragraph most probably means _____.
    A. to pay the exact amount
    B. to ask for a discount
    C. to increase the amount to the nearest whole number
    D. to circle the price on the bill
15. What is the main advice the author gives to travelers?
    A. Never tip when traveling abroad.
    B. Always tip 20% wherever you go.
    C. Research local tipping customs before traveling.
    D. Ask the waiter how much to tip.

Passage 2

Questions 16-20 are based on the following passage.

Artificial Intelligence (AI) is rapidly changing the world, and education is one of the fields being most significantly impacted. AI tools are being developed to personalize learning, automate administrative tasks, and provide new ways for students to engage with information.

One of the key benefits of AI in education is personalized learning. Every student learns at a different pace and has different strengths and weaknesses. AI programs can analyze a student's performance data to create a customized learning path. For example, if a student struggles with a specific math concept, the AI can provide extra practice problems and explanations tailored to that student's needs, while allowing a student who has mastered the concept to move ahead.

AI can also help teachers by grading assignments and organizing paperwork. This frees up time for teachers to focus on what they do best: teaching and mentoring students. Furthermore, AI-powered chatbots (聊天机器人) can be available 24/7 to answer students' questions, providing support outside of classroom hours.

However, the rise of AI in education also raises concerns. Some worry that AI could replace human interaction, which is a vital part of the learning process. There are also concerns about data privacy and the possibility that AI algorithms (算法) could be biased. Additionally, there is the risk that students might become too dependent on AI tools and lose the ability to think critically and solve problems on their own.

Despite these challenges, experts believe that AI will not replace teachers but rather become a powerful assistant. The future of education will likely involve a collaboration between humans and machines, where AI handles the data and routine tasks, and teachers provide the empathy, creativity, and guidance that machines cannot replicate.

16. How does AI help with personalized learning?
    A. By forcing all students to learn at the same speed.
    B. By analyzing data to create customized learning paths.
    C. By replacing textbooks with videos.
    D. By giving every student the same homework.
17. According to the passage, how can AI assist teachers?
    A. By teaching the class for them.
    B. By automating grading and administrative tasks.
    C. By cleaning the classroom.
    D. By attending parent-teacher meetings.
18. One concern about AI in education mentioned in the text is _____.
    A. it makes learning too expensive
    B. it is too difficult for students to use
    C. it might replace necessary human interaction
    D. it consumes too much electricity
19. The word "biased" in the fourth paragraph means _____.
    A. fair

B. fast
C. prejudiced
D. intelligent

20. What is the expert's view on the future relationship between AI and teachers?
A. AI will completely replace teachers.
B. Teachers will stop using technology.
C. AI will work together with teachers as an assistant.
D. AI will only be used for administrative tasks, not teaching.

Section B (20 points)

Directions: In this section there is a passage with 10 blanks. You are required to select one word for each blank from a list of choices given in a word bank following the passage. Read the passage carefully before making your choice. Each choice in the blank is identified by a letter. Please mark the corresponding letter for each item on the Answer Sheet with a single line through the center. You may not use any of the words in the bank more than once.

Lifelong learning is the ongoing, voluntary, and self-motivated pursuit of knowledge for either personal or professional reasons. It is important for an individual's competitiveness and employability, but also enhances social inclusion, active citizenship, and personal 21.

In a rapidly changing world, the skills we learned at school or university can quickly become 22. Technology is constantly evolving, and new industries are emerging while old ones disappear. To stay relevant in the job market, we must 23 to these changes by acquiring new skills. This might involve taking online courses, attending workshops, or simply reading books on new topics.

However, lifelong learning is not just about 24. It is also about personal satisfaction. Learning a new language, playing an instrument, or understanding history can enrich our lives and keep our minds 25. It keeps the brain healthy and active, which is especially important as we 26.

Developing a habit of lifelong learning requires 27. You need to be willing to step out of your comfort zone and embrace new challenges. It also requires time management, as we often have to balance learning with work and family 28.

Fortunately, the internet has made learning more 29 than ever before. There are countless resources available at our fingertips. Whether you want to learn coding or cooking, there is likely a course or tutorial out there for you.

Ultimately, lifelong learning is a 30 that never ends. It is a way of life that keeps us curious, engaged, and growing throughout our entire lives.

A. age	B. responsibilities	C. career	D. journey	E. accessible
F. outdated	G. adapt	H. development	I. curiosity	J. sharp
K. useless	L. expensive	M. hobbies	N. future	O. prevent

IV. Cloze (20 points)

Directions: There are 10 blanks in the following passage. For each blank there are 4 choices marked A, B, C and D. You are required to choose the ONE that best fits into the passage. Then mark the corresponding letter on the Answer Sheet with a single line through the centre.

Volunteering is generally considered an altruistic (利他的) activity where an individual or group provides services for no financial gain. However, while the 31 aim is to help others, volunteering can also be highly beneficial to the volunteer.

First, volunteering connects you to others. It is a great way to meet new people and 32 your network. By working together with people who share your interests, you can build meaningful friendships. It also helps you improve your social skills, 33 effective communication and teamwork.

Second, volunteering is good for your mind and body. Studies have shown that helping others can reduce stress, fight depression, and keep you mentally stimulated. The sense of 34 you get from making a difference can boost your self-confidence and life satisfaction. 35, some volunteering activities involve physical labor, which helps keep you fit.

Third, volunteering can advance your career. It gives you the opportunity to practice important skills used in the workplace, such as problem-solving, organization, and project planning. You can also try out a new career path 36 making a long-term commitment. Having volunteering experience on your resume (简历) shows employers that you are 37 and willing to take initiative.

Finally, volunteering brings fun and fulfillment to your life. It is an easy and interesting way to 38 your passions and interests. Whether you love animals, art, or the outdoors, there are volunteer opportunities that suit you.

In a word, volunteering is a two-way street. The more you give, the 39 you receive. So why not find a cause you care about and get 40 today?

31. A. private B. primary C. cheap D. sudden

32. A. expand B. reduce C. destroy D. hide
33. A. except B. including C. without D. despite
34. A. humor B. direction C. purpose D. taste
35. A. However B. Therefore C. Otherwise D. Additionally
36. A. without B. after C. by D. for
37. A. lazy B. motivated C. tired D. rude
38. A. explore B. forget C. deny D. stop
39. A. less B. more C. worse D. fewer
40. A. involved B. confused C. bored D. married

V. Writing (15 points)

Directions: In this part you are required to write a composition entitled My View on Traditional Festivals in no less than 100 words according to the following Chinese outline. Please remember to write it on the Answer Sheet.

1. 中国有许多传统节日(如春节、中秋节等),它们对我们很重要;
2. 如今,一些年轻人似乎更热衷于过"洋节"(如圣诞节、情人节);
3. 你的观点:我们应该如何对待传统节日。