Addiction to Smart Phones

Owing to the development of society, more and more problems are brought to our attention, one of the most severe is addiction to smart phones.

The negative aspects of addiction to smart phones are also apparent. One of the important disadvantages is that it may cause some problems to your health. Besides, if you keep playing with your phone when you are with your friends or family, you will spend less time talking to them. In fact, it is they who need and deserve to be cared for. Lastly, addiction to smart phones may weaken your interpersonal skills and it's possible that you may have difficulty in communicating with people.

Considering the above mentioned, we can draw a natural conclusion that we should make use of smart phones properly and avoid addiction to smart phones.

Is Honesty out of Style? ®

In our society, there are many dishonest behaviors. Students are cheating in examinations. Sellers are selling fake goods, etc. We cannot deny that cheating in our society is on the rise.

Honesty is still regarded as the most important virtue even in the highly commercialized countries, just as the English saying puts it: "Honesty is the best policy." Though sometimes honesty may get you in trouble or hurt someone, honesty is better than lying. Evidently it is still necessary and essential.

Although some people may think that people are getting more and more dishonest, yet we have enough to show that most people are still honest. We can often get the information that the honest do their best to return the lost money and the dishonest ones are driven out of the universities or companies. Therefore, in my opinion, honesty is still not out of style today.

Computers in Students' Flats

Nowadays, an increasing number of students' flats have computers installed in them. Computer presents a vivid world in front of students. But there is no agreement among people concerning the effects of computers in students' flats.

Some people contend that computers in students' apartments will have a bad influence on their study. Influenced by each other, students will become indulged in computer games or surfing the Internet without paying more attention on study. However, others maintain that computers in students' apartments will promote their study. If they encounter some problems about study, they can log on the Internet and search for related information without going to ask for their teachers frequently.

For my part, it is the most important thing for students to make proper use of the computers in dorms. While students enjoy the convenience of computers, they should be alert to the problems of computers. Students should not addict to games on the Internet. Otherwise, any attempt to use computer for study will end up as nothing but an empty dream.

Coping with Employment Pressure for College Students

In recent years, we have witnessed a social phenomenon that employment pressure for college students has become more and more common in our daily life and aroused public concern.

Generally speaking, there are many measures to explore regarding employment pressure for college students, but the followings are the most typical ones. In the first place, schools should provide necessary support and resources to help solve this problem. In addition, The relevant departments should introduce policies to help solve this problem. Lastly, As college students, we should strive to learn scientific and cultural knowledge. And we should adjust our job expectations, focusing on long-term development rather than just high salaries.

From what I have mentioned above, we can draw the conclusion that coping with employment pressure for college students brings us a lot of thoughts. If we keep paying attention to it, things will surely get better in future years.

The Bicycle-sharing System

Currently, the bicycle-sharing system is becoming increasingly prevalent in most cities. A large majority of people choose to go out by the new kind of bicycle.

There is no denying that it has brought a great number of benefits. To begin with, it is quite convenient as you can see these bicycles anywhere. In addition, as the new transportation means is adopted by people, the traffic pressure has been greatly relieved. Good as the system is, it has its own disadvantages. Some people put the bicycles disorderly, which does great harm to the tidiness of the city.

In conclusion, the system has both merits and shortcomings. It is suggested that laws and regulations about the bicycle-sharing system should be carried out by the government. As well, people are supposed to strengthen their awareness of the problem and put the bicycles in the right place.

Waste Sorting

The past several years have witnessed a social not uncommon phenomenon that waste sorting becomes increasingly serious, which has aroused public concern.

Many people in China are still used to throwing away the rubbish unsorted despite a decade of calls for waste-sorting. People's throwing rubbish unsorted will bring about some problems. First of all, it causes a big waste of recyclable resources. Second, rubbish that should be recycled and reused but are mixed with the non-recyclable stuff will take up a lot of space in the landfill site. Last but not the least, it will add to the difficulty and cost of waste treatment.

As far as I am concerned, the situation being so serious, it is high time that we took measures to solve the issue of waste sorting problem. Our government should take effective measures and immediate actions. As for ourselves, we ought to take practical action to comply with the rules of rubbish classification.

Online Games

Currently, there are a growing number of people who are becoming deliciously addicted to online games. What's more, with the smart phone constantly updating and replacing, mobile online games came along—which means people even could play online games anywhere and anytime and this phenomenon is particularly prevalent in universities. What's worse, some students lacking self-discipline are too much indulged in these games so that their health and grades are seriously affected, which has caused much worry from the parents and teachers.

However, some people hold a different view towards online games because they think it does not only have bad effects. Actually not only can students take a relax when they play online games during the interval of heavy classes, but also they can broaden their horizons and get some extracurricular knowledge.

All in all, in my point of view, online games are a marvelous entertainment. If you can play it in a proper way, which needs you to be enough self-control over it.

【范文】

Knowledge and Diploma

It is generally believed that a high diploma guarantees a promising future. Some people identify high diplomas with profound knowledge and exceptional competence. Companies also tend to emphasize the academic achievement of a job candidate. Like it or not, there does exist a social reality---the higher diploma one gets, the more popular he becomes.

On the contrary, other people claim that a high diploma doesn't automatically translate into knowledge. A diploma, in their eyes, is only the acknowledgment of one's educational experience rather than a guarantee of one's ability. Therefore, we can never measure the depth of one's knowledge by the grade of one's diploma. Besides, many knowledgeable people don't have a high diploma. Take Bill Gates for example, his dropping out of college cannot deny the fact that he is one of the world's most learned men.

In my opinion, I think no one should ever equate a diploma with knowledge, because a diploma is nothing but a proof of a short-term study while genuine knowledge needs one's lifelong devotion.

Aid Education in China

Each year, college students, encouraged to aid students in the poverty-stricken areas, volunteer themselves in poor villages for a year and try to improve education in poor areas.

Aid-education has been beneficial in two aspects. On the one hand, college volunteers are really devoted to the cause. They have opened the eyes of students in underdeveloped regions to the outside world by bringing them new knowledge and thoughts. As a result, they are extremely well-received by the children there. On the other hand, college students have received a rigorous training by adapting to the harsh living conditions. They are enjoying the appreciation and no-distance friendship from the children. What's more, they are greatly inspired by the moving and tireless spirit of the children.

In my opinion, China's educational development can't be isolated from each individual and we college students should take the lead in response to the appeal for offering aid to children in.

Traveling Abroad

Nowadays, traveling abroad has been getting increasingly popular in China, which has become a part of our daily life.

A number of factors account for the phenomenon, but the followings are the most critical ones. First, thanks to the policy of reform and opening-up, the nation's economy has been developing at a considerably high speed in the past decades. Therefore, people have extra money for traveling. Secondly, other relevant state policies and the boom of touring industry provide citizens with more opportunities to go out and see the world. Last but not the least, people have attached greater importance to the quality of life, thus they spend more money and time traveling and sight-seeing.

In a word, the trend of traveling abroad will further stimulate the development of our economy and broaden people's horizons. I believe a happy and bright future is awaiting us if we spare no efforts to do so.

My Views on Self-Discipline

In the current society, as the pace of people's life is speeding up, one of the topics which many people are discussing is self-discipline. It is closely related to our study and growth. I firmly believe self-discipline is extremely important for college students.

A clear example is my classmate Li Ming. He once struggled with English, failing the exam twice. Later, he made a self-disciplined plan: reading 20 words every morning and practicing listening for 30 minutes every night. He stuck to it without interruption. After six months, he passed the exam with a high score.

From what I have mentioned above, we can draw the conclusion that self-discipline brings us a lot of benefits. In study, it helps us finish tasks efficiently and master knowledge solidly. In life, it lets us balance study and rest, keeping us energetic. More importantly, it builds our willpower, which benefits our future development.

The Importance of Time Management

In the current society, as the pace of people's life is speeding up, one of the topics which many people are discussing is time management. It is closely related to our study and growth.

To gain an overall understanding of time management, it is essential to explore in depth its underlying meaning. Generally speaking, time management is the ability to plan and control how we spend our time on different tasks. It helps us avoid wasting time, finish work on schedule, and balance study with daily life.

From what I have mentioned above, we can draw the conclusion that time management brings us a lot of benefits. As a college student, I should strive to learn scientific and cultural knowledge, and cultivate positive awareness and habits—like making daily to-do lists and prioritizing important tasks. If we keep paying attention to it, things will surely get better in future years.

My Idea of a Good Study Routine

In the current society, as the pace of people's life is speeding up, one of the topics which many people are discussing is study routine. It is closely related to our study and growth.

To gain an overall understanding of study routine, it is essential to explore in depth its underlying meaning. Generally speaking, My ideal study routine has two main parts. First, I want to study at fixed times—like 7 to 9 p.m. every weekday. This way, my brain gets used to focusing then. Second, I'll sort out my notes after each class. Writing down key points helps me remember what the teacher said.

From what I have mentioned above, we can draw the conclusion that good study routine brings us a lot of benefits. As a college student, I should strive to learn scientific and cultural knowledge and cultivate positive awareness and habits. And I'll set a daily reminder on my phone. When I feel lazy, I'll tell myself to stick to it for just 10 minutes first. We, trying our best to do so, can witness a better future of our life.

My Hope to Make More Friends

In the current society, as the pace of people's life is speeding up, one of the topics which many people are discussing is making friends. It is closely related to our personal growth and experiences. As for me, I really hope to make more friends in college.

I want to make sincere friends. They should be kind and honest—never lie to me. It would be great if they share my hobbies, like reading storybooks or playing basketball. With such friends, we can read together after class, play games on weekends, and talk about our joys and worries freely.

From what I have mentioned above, we can draw the conclusion that making more friends brings us a lot of benefits. To make more friends, I'll join a reading club. There, I can meet people who love books too. I'll also be active to start talks, like asking classmates about their favorite books. I believe these steps will help me make good friends soon.

My Goal of Keeping a Healthy Life

In the current society, as the pace of people's life is speeding up, one of the topics which many people are discussing is keeping a healthy life. It is closely related to our study and growth. As a college student, I've always tried to keep a healthy life.

My healthy plan has three key parts. First, I keep a regular sleep schedule—I go to bed before 11 p.m. and wake up at 7 a.m. every morning, which helps me stay energetic all day. Second, I do exercise three times a week. I usually walk for 30 minutes or play badminton with my classmates after class. Third, I pay attention to my diet. I eat more vegetables and fruit instead of fried food or sugary drinks, and I never skip breakfast.

From what I have mentioned above, we can draw the conclusion that keeping a healthy life brings us a lot of benefits. It improves my study efficiency—I can focus better in lectures and finish homework faster. It also boosts my mood; I feel happier and less stressed when I'm in good health. Most importantly, it teaches me self-discipline, a skill that will help me in both my future studies and career. If we keep paying attention to it, things will surely get better in future years.

A Thank-You Letter to Athena

Dear Athena,

How are you getting on with your life and work? I'm writing to express my sincere thanks for everything you've done for me. I could not have done it without your help. Thank you so much.

During my stay in America, you gave me a lot of help. First, you patiently corrected my pronunciation and grammar mistakes every day. What's more, you often talked with me in English to improve my oral English skills. Another thing that I can't forget is that you recommended many English books and movies to me and explained difficult points for me. So it is your kindness and help that have made my English improve greatly. Now I would like to take this opportunity to express my great appreciation for your timely support and assistance.

Thank you for your help again.

Best wishes,

Li Hua
